U. S. AND ENGLISH BLOOD SPILLED BY U-BOATS

President Sets Day of Prayer—Terriffic Artillery Battle On—Pork Tumbles Coal Scarce—Strikes Threaten

U-BOAT FRIGHTFULNESS AGAIN RESUMED

LONDON, Oct. 20. Two British destroyers and five Norwegian and three Swedish merchantmen were sunk by two German raiders in the North Sea, Wednesday, between the Shetland Islands and the coast of Norway, the admiralty announced today. The merchantmen were sent to the bottom after the two British fighting ships had been disposed of, the statement said.

The neutral merchantmen which were sunk were not armed. They were destroyed by the Germans before any examination of their cargoes had been emade and without regard to the lives of their crews and their passengers.

DAY OF PRAYER IS PROCLAIMED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. President Wilson today proclaimed Sunday, October 28, as a day of prayer, for the triumph of American arms. The proclamation in part follows:

"I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, gladly responding to the wish expressed by the congress, do appoint October 28, being the last Sunday of the present month, as a day of supplication and prayer for all the people of the nation, earnestly exhorting all my countrymen to observe the appointed day according to their several forms of worship by prayer to God to bless our arms on land and sea with victory, to the end that the cause for which we give our lives and treasure may triumph and our efforts be blessed with high achievement."

ARTILERY BATTLE BY ALL NATIONS

LONDON, Oct. 20. An artillery battle "of all nations" is raging today over a thirty mile front in Belgium.

British, French, Belgian, Prussian and German guns are in action. Again has the cannonade on the Flanders front raise to such heights of "hydson fire" that it can be heard in England.

PRICE OF PORK TAKES TUMBLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. Provisions underwent a remarkable collapse in today's market, especially pork, which crashed down $2.50 a barrel, January delivery, the principal trading option. Ribs closed off $1.05 ... 29 MORE SOLDIER BOYS DEPARTED LAST NIGHT

The third contingent of our boys departed last night at 9 o'clock for the Camp Lewis training gcamp in the state of Washington, with the band playing, Home Guards marching, autos, drum corps and others attending them as a guard of honor, and hundreds of citizens wishing them Godspeed and farewell.

They were selected from the list published in this paper yesterday, and were as bright and manly a crowd of boys as any who have gone on before to join their country's colors in the war against the common enemy and the national outlaw of the world.

Richmond and his registration district, and this whole county has sent out several hundreds of its best young men now, and has every confidence that they will make good records, and be a credit to themselves, the community from which they go and to their country in this hour of all wars.

AUTO DRIVERS KILL TWO MEN

Richmond and Stege Citizens Meet Instant Death

John Porter, of Stege, died of injuries sustained when he was struck by a motor truck of the Owl Express, driven by J. A. Mullins, in front of the Stag saloon on San Pablo avenue at 7 o'clock last night. He was rushed to the Alta H emergency hospital, but was beyond saving and expired at 7:45, within 45 minutes after being run down.

Mullins was coming up San Pablo avenue, when Porter suddenly stepped in front of the moving truck. He was hurled through the air some ... but no bruises whatever showed on him. Mr. Dean is no stranger to the old time business and has ridden that line goodness knows, and now is general agent for the Frank C. Dean Co. of San Francisco, and people on this coast for the old ... Bethlehem motor trucks. Dean's territory is from Richmond to Stockton and everything south of the Tehachapi range. He is not selling trucks, but is establishing agencies, and has a splendid and lucrative position.

Pat Dean is a smart man, and is going to make good. He is very much in earnest in this new field, and as enthusiastic about it is a boy with a new pair of red top and copper toed boots. He is already planning and putting into effect new ideas, and stands to build up something very handsome in due time. And we all hope he will.

THE GRANDEST PARADE EVER IN RICHMOND

Unquestionably the biggest and grandest parade ever seen in Richmond will be that of the Liberty day, already announced in this paper. With half a regiment of U. S. troops in line four abreast, beside all the local attractionsn in marching order, decorated autos, etc., it will be something worth traveling miles to see.

Five hundred American soldiers will participate in the great Liberty Loan demonstration in this city on next Wednesday evening. James C. Owens secured the visit of the men from the military authorities in San Francisco and Superintendent Donnelly got the San Francisco, Oakland Terminal Railway to agree to furnish transportation to this city. All owners of machines are urged to decorate their cars and be at Park Place at 6:30 o'clock that evening.

"Turn out, everybody! Make it unanimous!"

Fire Laddies Honored With Social Time

The three enlisted members of the Fire Department were honored with a social in the rooms of Fire House No. 2, last evening, the honored guests being Lieutenant Jack Barry of Truck No. 1, Fireman G. Imbach and Albert Hueck. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all with dancing ... from the old square ... to the latest ball room fantasies, and refreshments.

Christian Endeavor Executive Meeting

The county officers of the Christian Endeavor Society, held an executive session at the First Presbyterian church last night, with Walter E. Paul, of Richmond, presiding. Plans were outlined and made for the the coming year, assuring a very interesting period for the members. The officers present were: Rev. B. C. Chapman of Pittsburg; J. W. Crozier, Alamo; Mrs. Brown, Corta; Mr. Bioletti, of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Lindsey, of Rodeo; Miss Young and Miss Clark of Danville; J. Glover, Miss Afolter and Miss Laurey of Pittsburg; Miss Pickett, Miss Barker, Miss Sansorn, Rev. Sansorn and Walter E. Paul, all of Richmond.

Mrs. Fred Zimmerman left for Redding last night to visit her husband, who has been working on a large irrigation dam at Flume, as foreman.

SHOW VISITORS INVITED TO ALSO SEE RICHMOND

Our People Wish to Show The Fastest Growing Town of its Age in the United States

The News gives away a thousand copies of the paper this morning to the multitude at the California Land Show, just to show it has home patriotism, and also to invite them to visit Richmond and see that all this talk about this being the wonderful little city in the West, or of its size in America, and we hope many of them will accept the invitation. Sightseeing autos will be placed at their disposal free, if they will notify this office they are coming, at any time, now or in the future, and they will be given a hearty welcome and be shown many things they do not even dream of now.

Richmond has no equal in America, in point of growth, of its age, and is now also the second shipping port in California in point of industrial tonnage products. We want you all to see these great manufacturing industries, friends, and our deep water harbor, and our city in general, and we want you to come across the bay and be our guests. It won't cost you anything but the two-bits carfare over, and we won't even try to sell anything—all we will do will be to show you around and invite you to make your visit permanent and stay all the rest of your life.

We have a payroll here now amounting to a million dollars a month—come on over and help us spend it. It is all outside money but goes into instant circulation locally—it comes from, everywhere, from New York to China and Japan and everywhere else in the world, wherever people buy manufactured products, ride in Pullman cars or purchase railroad tickets.

Richmond has the finest schools in the county; 150 miles of paved streets and sidewalks; elegant elegant churches; beauteous homes; splendid business blocks; a thriving commerce; brave men pretty women; fat babies; and a peaceful, God-fearing, liberty-loving, happy and prosperous people.

And they all second the News' invitation to you Land Show visitors to pay Richmond a cordial and friendly visit, and to do it now.

Surprise Party For Soldier Boys

The friends of Frank Smith hobnobbed him with a pleasant surprise party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith of 231 ... E Richmond Avenue last night. A jolly evening was spent with games, ... refreshments. The guests present were Miss Nellie Coleman, ... Miss Wilma Miller, Miss Ida Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. James Parks, Miss Marie Hulse, Roy Fernald, Walter Imbach, Wayne Neville, Mrs. F. J. Kenneth, Mrs. Kenison of Auburn, Mr and Mrs. C. P. Hecker, Boyd and Thelma Hecker, Frank Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith.

Christian Science Reading Rooms

The Christian Science Reading Room, which has for the past four years been located in Berry building, was yesterday moved into new and larger quarters in the Pillow Building, a second room having become a necessity. These rooms are maintained by the local Christian Science Church, and are open to the public every afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. A free circulating library gives those who wish to investigate the teachings of this religious cult an opportunity to do so in their own homes.

The Christian Scientists have just purchased a fine organ, something quite out of the ordinary, for use in their church services in the Richmond Club.

The Editor Says:

JUST RAMBLING THINKS

Here it is nearly Sunday morning and no Thinkographs written yet. The incessent howl for copy oozes into the editorial den from the machine operators, and as there is no escape, and no rest for the wicked, I turn to this old Colorady quartz mill of a typewriter for a general chat with the readers. The usual number of kicks and complaints have arrived this week, by mail and otherwise, and along with them a few compliments, which make the kicks less stinging. I guess people never will learn that I am not running this newspaper to make money. They can't seem to get that through their brain-pans. The prevailing idea nowdays is that everybody is doing whatever they are doing for money, and money alone. Different here, which is the reason I write what I want to without regard to whether some folks like it or not. That does not pay, but it is right, and right is right, and wrongs no man. Maybe in the long run it wins out, and maybe it don't. I don't know. I have had men bring both political and financial pressure to bear, and come in here and tell me where I should head in, but I don't head worth a cent, and tell 'em to go to—er—Germany. Probably they don't go, but they seldom come back. One nicely starched gentleman told me a few days ago that I ought to be more friendly to "Big Business", and that I was plum crazy to be everlastingly bucking the liquor interests, which had lots of money to spend in advertising.

* * *

I am inclined to think that man was more than half right. I rather guess that all good writers, poets, philosophers, astronomers, musicians and kindred humans are perhaps just a little "off." That is, "different" from other folks. They sort of live in a different relm, with the thoughts and inspirations inside of them, and play a game with themselves, as it were, and in fact as it is. They lose so much time looking at the moon and stars and pondering what's up there, and puttering around among the flowers, and listening to what the birds say in their songs, and what the frog down under the bush is croaking about, and what the bees are humming over, and why the calves bawl, and the maltese cat fuzzes up its tail when the dog shows up, and all that sort of thing you know, that they fail to figure up just what the interest on a hundred dollars is per hour or per minute, and so maybe while they are making friends with the dogs and the cats and the flowers, they overlook five or six cents quite often.

* * *

The telephone has been ringing its fool clapper off in here all night, and a while ago I told the night reporter that the next chap that rang in to find out who won the prize prize fight, or ball game, and whether Kaiser Bill or Uncle Sam was ahead, to tell him I was dead, and the funeral would be some time next week. Then I went out in the back yard garden among the flowers, which is the only back yard flower garden attached to a printing office in the world, as far as I ever heard, and I and the flowers and the moon and the stars, and three or four stray cats had a sort of convention, and forgot all about wars and munitions, and high cost of living, and politics, and money, and a lot of other cussed stuff that is making the world go round on its axis backward. It's lots nicer out there than in here where the presses are clanging and the linotype is clicking and the foreman is swearin' and sich like, and I was wondering out there where the new moon reached down and kissed a lot of purple and white cosmos flowers and red geraniums, what we are all here for, and, as the song goes, "Where Do We Go From Here."

* * *

I don't know what I'm gonna do
When Life's skies stop a-bein' blue,
When blossomed boughs forgit to swing,
An' happy birds forgit to sing,
An' vines stop climbin' up the wall,
An' little fellers cease to call,
An' waitin' cows forgit to moo
The coaxin' way they useter do,
An' when the horses never neigh,
An' pigs don't grunt that hungry way,
An' crickets don't quarrel over stones,
An' dogs ain't happy gnawin' bones,
An' winds don't whisper in tall trees,
An' there's no hummin'honeybees,
An' stars don't shine when it comes night
Ner crickets chirr, nor fishes bite
Ner lovers stand besided the bars
With claspin' hands and eyes like stars;
When waves don't pound upon the shore
An' no one loves me any more,
And love has left the world an' gone
An' don't wake up with any dawn—
But I don't need feel no distress
'Cause I won't be here then, I guess.

* * *

When I took over this print shop and think foundry, now going on two years, that back yard was the receptical of all the rubbish for half a block in all directions. There were old shoes, dead cats, broken booze bottles, old rags and bones and scrap iron, and Lord knows what, so I cleared all that away and spaded it up and planted both flowers and vegetables, all mixed together.

And now it is mighty pretty, and is a sort of down town annex to the 2x4 ranch. And over in the next yard to the east is a vacant lot and an old tumbled down vacant house, and I reckon fully a dozen cats and kittens live there, and propagate and replenish the earth, and sing songs at the moon that ain't any worse than some phonographs. These cats are wild. They never had a home and are outlaws, and everybody throws stones and brickbats and pokers and things at them, and they are hunted and haunted, and how in the world they live is a mystery that is, part of it is a mystery, for I contribute a little, 'cause I hate to see anything's ribs stick ing through its hide, and I realize that I wouldn't look nice going around with my ribs sticking out through my shirt and vest, either, and probably the cats feel the same way about it. In fact I know they do, because they have told me so in unmistakable language. I understand the dog and cat language fairly well, and they understand mine, and so we are great friends. They are as wild as any coyote you ever saw, and if anybody else shows up out there in the back yard except me they go over that 10-foot board fence like a projectile out of a Krupt gun. But they know me, all right, and will testify tonight that I am a nice man. Likely their testimony wouldn't go far in court, but I'm sort of glad that somebody, or something, is willing to so testify. I get a bottle of milk from the creamery, some bread from the bakery next door, and a hunk of raw meat from the market, and divide it up impartially. And they hump their backs up and rub against my legs, and pur and explain to me that it's a derned tough old world to get along in, which I already know by experience is so. I have had brickbats thrown at me, figuratively, also and have been hungry, and all that, and I know how they feel about it.

And two little scrubby dogs came around, too, from nowhere, and cock their ears at me, and thump their tails up and down and sideways on the ground until they have worn a yard or two off of the grass—and all they ask is a bit of kindness, in return for which they are willing to give love and fidelity.

* * *

Gosh! I guess that's about all any of us need in this world—a little love and kindness.

LIBRARY NOTES

An inventory of the books at the West Side Library was completed this week. A number of books, some long overdue, have never been returned by the borrowers; thes books are greatly needed at the library, and their prompt return will be very much appreciated.

W. L. Whitesides returned yesterday from a week's trip to Tulare.

Alvin Gerlach came home last night, for a week end visit with his folks, all decorated up in an expert rifleman's pin, which only he and 3 others were able to get. He states that he is having a fine time and he looks it.

Mrs. Rose Hughes of Illinois is expected here today, to visit her girlhood friend, Mrs. S. G. Little. Those ladies have not met for many years and a pleasant visit is predicted.

Mrs. Max Henry is seriously ill at her home on Glen Avenue.

Mrs. E. W. Benson and little daughter, Beth, are spending Sunday at their former home in Dixon.

J. V. Lamore left yesterday, to spend the week end at his mother's home in Santa Rosa.

P. Church was able to be about the streets yesterday for a short time, after a two weeks' illness.

Mrs. Paul Dunlap returned last night from Santa Rosa, where she had been attending the W. C. T. U. Convention for the past week.

The bronze tablet that was placed at the southern entrance of th Municipal Tunnel, has disappeared, with only the bolts and empty hole left as mute witness. What has become of it?

A marriage license was granted in Oakland to David R. Ralston ot Richmond and Miss Bernetta E. Frederick of Gilroy. The groom is the eldest son of Rev. D. W. Ralston a former pastor of the First M. E. church. The young people will make their home in Richmond.

The food and apron sale of the Ladies Aid of the First Christian church, which was held at the West Side News office yesterday afternoon, was a decided success. The supply was sold out at 3 o'clock and many were the disappointed would-be buyers who came later.

Food Sale and Paper Collection

A food sale will be held at the West Side work rooms next Saturday, by the local chapter of the Red Cross. Contributions of all manner of food stuffs will be kindly received and all having such will please communicate with Mrs. H. D. Chapman. Now if you wish to secure something really fine in the way of edibles be sure and take in this sale and be on time. There are some 5½ tons of paper brought into Richmond every month, of which the great majority goes to waste. Instead of leaving it go to waste, why not give it to the Red Cross, who would be able to carry on some humane work with it? The local chapter will make a collection of old newspapers next Saturday, save up your papers, and if you cant take them down to any of the work rooms, just drop a card to H. D. Chapman and he will se that it is removed.

The comfort kits are being rushed to completion for the departing boys of Co. B, who leave for Linda Vista, Monday.

The chapter is also planning to send Christmas boxes to the boys from Richmond and the arrangements are being made by Mrs. J. C. Owens.

Richmond High Beats Napa 6 to 0

The Richmond High Football team is now the champion of three counties, namely, Contra Costa, Marin and Napa, as a result of their victory over the Napa High school team yesterday afternoon at the 23d street grounds, to the tune of 3 to 0.

The game was one of the bitterest and hardest fought ever seen here, with Richmond fighting against odds, as the Napa team not only was a much heavier team, but also much more experienced.

In the first half, which was a 25 minute one, Richmond was continually on the defensive and well did they do it too, for time and again it looked as if that mountain of flesh would force the ball over by sheer weight, but always Richmond managed to fustrate them. Excitement was at its height when a large burly Napa back, plowed himself throughg to the goal, while the fans held their breath, expecting a touchdown, which seemed inevitable. But the game was saved by Miner, who dove into him and knocked him cold, and the ball out of his hands into the waiting ones of Glavinovich, who then sat on it. A few moments later the first half ended with neither side scoring.

In the second half with the wind and the slope of the grounds with them Richmond tore into Napa with the old pep, snap and zest, fighting as if their very life depended on it, with the result that they had he ball continually in Napa's territory and from their five yard line Shubat carried the ball over for the points that won the game. After that Richmond threatened to score twice and lacked only an inch or so each time.

The waterbucket was kept busy in the second half for two other Napa men were laid out by Fullback Miner while on Richmonds, side, sturdy little Glavinovich almos had his side caved in by a lusty Napa kicker.

Some very brilliant plays were pulled off by Mino, Miner, Woolslayer and Marcollo. Mino is especially deserving of special mention inasmuch as it was through his fleetfootedness and brainy playing that Napa was prevented from scoring. He is one of the greatest assets the team has.

A large crowd of fair fans cheered every good play made, while they fairly made the air ring when Richmond scored. The attendance was good and about $20 was realized on the game, of which Doyen sold $6 worth.

The lineup for Richmond was: Poage and Davidson, front rank; Glover and Wilson, rear rank; Follett and Christian, break away; Glavinovich and Wolfe, half back; McLaughlin, 1st 5; Marcollo, 2nd 5; Lang, center 3; Mino, left wing; Shubat, right wing; Miner, full back; Woolslayer, wing forward, Sharpe, Lock Barry, Austin, Doyen, subs.

MODESTO CLOSES ITS GROG SHOPS

MODESTO, Oct. 20.—The saloons of Modesto will close their doors at midnight tonight, they having been voted out at an election sixty days ago. This is the second time that Modesto has voted out the saloons. They were closed five years ago for eight months and reopened under strict regulation and high licenses by a majority of thirty votes. The majority against them at the recent election was 250. The only wet town left in Stanislaus County is Newman, in the western part.

TORPEDOED LINER A BIG FINE BOAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Antilles, a freight and passenger steamship of 6878 tons gross, owned by the Southern Pacific Steamship Co. (Morgan line), was one of the crack American coast liners. She plied between New Orleans and New York and had carried thousands of persons to the Mardi Gras celebration in the Southern city. The vessel was taken over by the government as a transport early in the war.

Captain H. F. Boyde, master of the Antilles, retained his command when the vessel entered the government service, as did most of his officers.

Good Vaudeville At T. & D. Today

J. C. Lewis, Jr. the youngest comedian in the world, will occupy a stellar role today at the Richmond Theater's vaudeville show in Billy's Santa Claus," an Orpheum feature which Manager Riordan has secured for the headliner on a program of excellent acts.

In addition to the comedy playlet there will be some first class singing by Miss Golden, the pretty comedienne, a side-splitting singing and dancing act by Don and Patty, and fancy dancing by Baby Sylvia, the child wonder.

The picture program will include the Vitagraph feature "The Sixteenth Wife" and a Pathe News.

NEW GLOVE FACTORY AT WALNUT CREEK

Real work has commenced on the factory and building for the Pacific Glove Factory on the Pringle tract opposite McGraw's place. Earth was turned for the foundations of the factory building by Ernest Cameron on Monday morning. A crew of eight carpenters and several carloads of material for construction work arrived on the same day and the industry is now assured for Walnut Creek. As soon as the buildings are ready for manufacturing, employment will open for many resident of Walnut Creek.

Over 50 technical operators will be brought here from other places.

The company has contracts on hand that call for a full operation of the plant from the start.—Walnut Creek Courier.

TWO BABIES PERISH IN FLAMES AND SMOKE

As sad and heart-rending a tragedy as ever happend in this locality was the burning to death of little Thomas and Chester Chapman, aged 2 and 3 years, which occurred yesterday.

The little tots were playing house in a garage near the home place, their father driving an auto for hire, and it is presumed they lit matches and set the place on fire. The Albany fire department finally extinguished the blaze, only to find the babies locked in each other's arms and burned to a crisp.

A coroner's inquest will be held Monday to determine, if possible, the cause of the fire and who, if anyone, may be to blame.

The grief-stricken father and mother are heart-broken. The mother discovered the fire and rushed away to give the alarm, not knowing the children were in the burning building.

NOTICE TO THE SICK

To Whom It May Concern:

I had two sprained thumbs and I can say Mrs. Peters healed them, and in three treatments she took all the pain and swelling out, also took the sickness from my stomach in three treatments. I am thankful to her.

MARCO BERTERA,
560 Second st., Richmond, Cal.

To Whom It May Concern:

I cannot express in words how greatful I am to Mrs. John Peters, the natural healer, of Richmond.

I was a total wreck for several years; I was deaf in my right ear for twenty-five years, and she has restored my hearing.

I hurt my arm forty years ago, and it has bothered me off and on ever since, and of late I was afraid it was going to paralize, for I had practically no use of it at all, but Mrs. Peters has healed it, and it is now perfectly well.

I had a navel rupture for twelve years, I had to wear a truss all the time, after the fifth treatment I threw my truss away, am now perfectly well. I had a running sore on my leg for seventeen years, I have never been free from pain, I have always doctored with medical doctors but they could not heal it, some advised taking off my leg, but I would not consent and praise to Mrs. Peters, after the first treatment I have never had a pain and have taken nineteen treatments and the sore is perfectly healed and I am a well man and praise to Mrs. Peters, the healer, who has done it all without a drop of medicine.

I would recommend Mrs. Peters to all sufferers. Call or write and I will tell you all about my suffering and how Mrs. Peters cured me.

I am now 57 years old.
